

MARCH THROUGH NORTH CHRISTIAN

Leaving a Trail of Enthusiasm
Like Tail of Halley's
Comet.

A DEMOCRATIC CRUSADE

Is Storming the Citadels of the Republican Ringsters and Routing Them.

The Democratic candidates returned Saturday night from a triumphal tour through the northeastern districts of the county and they are jubilant over the prospects of almost a clean sweep in that part of the county. Messrs Southall, Knight and Duffy did most of the speaking, though the other nominees were with them.

At West's school house Wednesday night, Bluff Spring Thursday afternoon, Grace's store Friday afternoon and Hight's store Friday night, they were greeted by crowds of from 100 to 150. Many ladies attended the speaking at Grace's store.

Enthusiasm was everywhere in the air. Life-long Republicans are going to support the entire county ticket.

In the neighborhood where the late H. C. Helsley died, his friends are indignant over the statement made by Judge C. O. Prowse that Helsley secured his own election by selling him out as county attorney four years ago.

At Crofton Saturday afternoon there was a round-up and a packed house. Here the other candidates found Miss Jennie West, who has done such effective campaigning that she will carry both of the Crofton precincts with their Republican majority of 200. Miss West is going to run far ahead in many localities and it seems almost a foregone conclusion that she will lead her ticket.

The candidates all returned to the city Saturday night and spent Sunday at home. This week they are down in the northwestern precincts covering the same territory that the Republicans were in last week, while the Republicans traverse the section that is already solidified for their opponents.

The Republicans have a rally in this city Saturday with Gov. Willson as the speaker at the Tabernacle at 1 p. m.

GOING TO ISTHMUS.

Editors of Three States to Inspect Work.

A special committee representing Louisiana, Mississippi and Arkansas press associations have made arrangements for an excursion from New Orleans to Panama. The excursion party will leave Oct. 19 on the United Fruit company's steamer Parismina and will spend five days on the isthmus. This will give the editors time to inspect the work being done on the Panama canal. The party will leave Colon Oct. 27 and arrive in New Orleans Nov. 5. Brief stops will be at Port Limon, Port Barrios, Belize, Bocas del Toro and other places.

The Panama railroad will furnish a special train to convey the excursionists across the isthmus.
